SYNAPSIS

1989

ALL YOU WHO ENTER HERE . . .

Pause and remember that you are entering a profession that depends on your understanding and human compassion.
If you feel you are unable,
for whatever reason,
to lend support to human beings,
then turn around and go away.

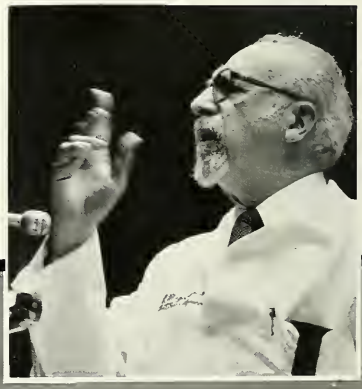
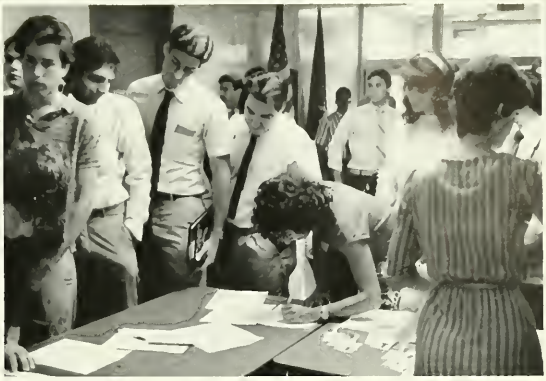
Norman Cousins





Osteopathic Oath

I do hereby affirm my loyalty to the profession I am about to enter.

I will be mindful always of my great responsibility to preserve the health and the life of my patients, to retain their confidence and respect both as a physican and a friend who will guard their secrets with scrupulous honor and fidelity, to perform faithfully my professional duties, to employ only those methods of treatment consistent with good judgement and with my skill and ability, keeping in mind always nature's laws and the body's inherent capacity for recovery.

I will be ever vigilant in aiding in the general welfare of the community, sustaining its laws and institutions, not engaging in those practices which will in any way bring shame or discredit upon myself or my profession. I will give no drugs for deadly purposes to any person, though it be asked of me.

I will endeavor to work in accord with my colleagues in a spirit of progressive cooperation, and never by word or by act cast imputations upon them of their rightful practices.

I will look with respect and esteem upon all those who have taught me my art. To my college I will be loyal and strive always for its best interests and for the interests of the students who will come after me. I will be ever alert to further application of basic biologic truths to the healing arts and to develop the principles of osteopathy which were first enunciated by Andrew Taylor Still.

Hippocratic Oath

I swear by Apollo Physician and Asclepios and Hygeia and Panacea and all the gods and goddesses, making them my witnesses, that I will fulfill according to my ability and judgement this oath and covenant:

To hold him who has taught me this art as equal to my parents and to live my life in partnership with him, and if he is in need of money to give him a share of mine, and to regard his offspring as equal to my brothers in male lineage and to teach them this art - if they desire to learn it - without fee and covenant; to give a share of precepts and oral instruction and all other learning to my sons and to the sons of him who has instructed me and to pupils who have signed the covenant and have taken an oath according to the medical law, but to no one else.

I will apply dietetic measures for the benefit of the sick according to my ability and judgement; I will keep them from harm and injustice.

I will neither give a deadly drug to anybody if asked for it, nor will I make a suggestion to this effect. Similarly, I will not give to a woman an abortive remedy. In purity and holiness I will guard my life and my art.

I will not use the knife, not even on sufferers of the stone, but will withdraw in favor of such men as are engaged in this work.

Whatever houses I may visit, I will come for the benefit of the sick, remaining free of all intentional injustice, of all mischief, and in particular of sexual relations with both female and male persons, be they free or slaves.

What I may see or hear in the course of treatment or even outside the treatment in regard to the life of men, which on no account one must spread abroad, I will keep to myself, holding such things shameful to be spoken about.

If I fulfill this oath and do not violate it, may it be granted to me to enjoy life and art, being honored with fame among all men for all time to come; if I transgress it and swear falsely, may the opposite of all this be my lot.

THE ONION PATCH: QUOTES FROM ZEUS; OUT OF CONTEXT

"The knee is typical of a structure that can only be designed by people with immense resources like the Creator or General Motors."
"I shall be really pedagogic; I shall use 2 colours. (ooooooohhgg)"
"I hear Leakey and his boys are still losse in Africa. An Englishman will do anything to hold onto a job."
"I'll bet you even mark up the wallpaper by going up and down the steps."
"Intelligence starts c self appraisal; to thine own self be true."
"Anything I tell you-LISTEN-Anything I tell you will haunt you for the rest of your days."
"Put your hands around your neck (from the galley: "SQUEEZE") Someone has a peculiar quirk to his brain."
". . . the people in the Alps are extremely oversexed."
" . . . in the neck, if you do layer by layer dissection, in the living, you get something that looks like a scrotum. Well, I had to say something descriptive. You get the idea now, heh."
"Don't ask me any silly questions about the levator ani . . . " (on the neck)
"It's the reason for that ole goofy look people get when they get older; notice that I don't have it." (on the fascia)
"Something ought to be striking you in the head right now."
"Anyone over 21 shouldn't run anywhere or play raquetball, or do any whimpy middle class things. (what should they do?) Practice the trombone! 2 hrs. of trombone practice helps venous return and the CO_2 causes blood vessels in the head to dilate."
"Older people should walk, only!" (How' 'bout sex?) "Sex . . . you can't use it for anything! . . . not psychiatric treatment either . . . it's only good for reproduction . . . it only takes about 25 seconds, the actual process, that is. Humans, increase the value of yourselves! Sex can be done with or without."
" . . . the church elevated the the level of the female to make a reason for reproduction . . . there was no use for women."
"A girl . . . . you couldn't rent them out as a soldier, or a priest or even a rabbi."
"You don't beat the Master."
"If a guy comes to you twice - start looking for the real disease."
"It's ya' noives, they all say."
"Ever see the mark of the Brute? Keep your eyes on it . . . even if they smile, watch 'em as they go down the street."
"The things you learn when you have to defend yourself . . . . "
" . . . Geeeze, I'm alone even among my own people."
"Ine minuten! OOPS wrong language!"
"I had a girl whoooo . . . . who called me up once; I said I'd be there after office hours . . . . that's how we used tod do it. . "
"The Germans knew who the slobs were."
"That's an interesting thing about history- it won't be out for a few years . . . . Well I'll give it to you early."
"Italy is more ideast than we think." (In response to a sneeze and a "God Bless YOU") "one of them Christians'
"I believe in trial by fire and wounds."
"You're not a man unless you've been knocked out."
"3 hits in the head is what you need."
"I've never hit a woman before."
"Get a femur out of the box and start beating someone over the head with it."
"God bless the firing squad. It solves problems very quickly."
"Administrators are like black holes in space. Everything that goes by gets sucked in . . . money . . . funds . . . whatever . . . "

"Hey you, with the beard, A.T. Still over there, Quit trying to fake it"
"My nose is getting in the way."
"It's the only one the Lord didn't subcontract; the only one He did himself. (on the temporal bone.)
"The inner ear is a snail c its intestines dragging."
"Who's the marsupial who put up the dinosaur picture?"
"We have an egg-laying marsupial in this class."
"This is the cristafalciformis . . . but you won't remember that so let's call it BILL'S BAR."
"None of you will remember this, except maybe the excessively good student, that nobody likes."
"I don't know what I'm trying to do here . . . none of this will sink in until after Wed. (Biochem. test)"
"You want to know how to start a whole race of people wrong . . . the great god of the Kelts name was LUG."
"Your tongue is the most important weapon you have in your face. The mouth isn't worth a plug nickel except for the tongue. 2 things can happen: You can talk yourself into trouble or you can get yourself knocked unconscious and have your tongue drop down the back of your throat and you suffocate."
"Wiggle someone's ear and they may vomit."
"The nose . . . you all have one . . . if it works, it works, but if it doesn't, it doesn't."
"NO doubt, if you had the brains, you'd be at Harvard."
"I never kidded a person in my life."
"This plate is easily . . . cra . . . ugh . . . . crrr . . . mmm . . . ugh . . . cracked!"
"I was always that way, so don't think it's advanced age or anything. As I talk to you I have about 14 thoughts in my head- Never a solitary thought in my head."
"The sphenopalatine ganglion looks like a guy chinning himself."
"We have to expand our brain; we can't stay comfortable as a specialist."
"If you have 5 kids, where do you put the dumbest one? Make him a urologist."
"What can you do c one opening and 2 ureters?"
"Look at this mess! . . . Who's the sabateur?"
"If you've got an oven, learn to use it."
"Even the bugs want to live!"
"Notice how the good Lord takes care of me . . . I've got my pictures (class) I'll get them in the end."
"Listen . . . I told you about Harvard . . . Want me to insult you some more?"
"Listen . . . I think they missed the zoo by about 10 blocks . . . and Carol Fox took 'em!"
"Quiet . . . Don't show your stupidity in here. Show it on the outside where I can't see it . . . but I'll hear about it alright."
"Quiet . . . it sounds monkey-like . . . like the blond-haired girl on ch. 12."
"I'll probably get a letter from somebody about chimps . . . but I can prove it now . . . "
"God . . . YOU'RE STUPID!"
"Did you know that Cipolla is the Italian word for Onion?"
"Penn State's one of those land grant schools: they teach farming and hoeing."
"Notes are a fallacy of modern education . . . You need a BRAIN!"
"Quiet down before you make a damn fool of yourself in 3 or 4 years . . . or tomorrow . . . just like you're doing now."
"It's not just a decorative process, putting an ear on either side of your head."
"Once deformed it becomes a horrible site . . . very expensive to rebuild, the ear."

V.T. Cipolla, D.O.

"Ever see a frostbit ear? Not too pretty!"
"Ever see this mess down here? (the wires) We hire people and give 'em benefits for doing it! And you think we're gonna' survive at this level?!
"This is the thing that will bring the lawyer to your door. It has no resistance to infection." (the ear)
"A horrible structure when you take the skin off; it doesn't do you much good at all." (the ear)
"Never hire a guy c a tight masseter muscle, they'll never amount to a hill of beans."
"You gotta be careful c this stuff." (the beam pointer)
"Can you imagine a thing like this? It's not so much the thing, it's the people who made it." (the beam pointer)
"The difference between the Italian and German soldiers is that the Italians can't stand noise. I don't know about that . . . I like noise."
"When you speak It's pure noise."
"Ever have a cold and talk? It's sounds like you're talking in a barrel.
"I went to Florida to this seminar . . . all about how to take an exam and not know anything . . . imagine, they actually teach that."
" . . . It's not to be used as a vacation,; it's for the invincibly stupid."
"If you went to college, which I presume you did . . . "

PHILADELPHIA COLLEGE OF OSTEOPATHY

AND THE

OSTEOPATHIC HOSPITAL OF PHILADELPHIA

Early in 1989 I was asked to write a class history. Being eager to contribute, numb to the world after a Florida vacation and a virtual lush for creative opportunities, I accepted this, what seemed to be, monstrous task. With out a thing on paper and definitely more numb now than before when engrossed with the thought of upcoming graduation, I thought to myself . . . this is really difficult. We all remember the milestones of our matriculation from Carol Fox all the way to exit interviews. It seemed meaningless to recount every event that occurred. What can make this essay different from the rest? I decided to pull out the 1939 Forty-First announcement and the 1939 Synapsis from the library to see what things were different Fifty years ago.

The not so fluorescent light bulb in my now totally brain dead skull flickered with visions of a stone front building at 48th and spruce streets with radiant green grass as the class of 1939 walked through the double doors for their first day at the Philadelphia College of Osteopathy. Their dress and styles were definitely different with suits that were double breasted and greased back hair for a dress code. Thank God that's not what Dr. Dieterle had in mind for us. The building was different as well. No new Signage was propped from every doorway accessible, nor was a bar-disco-restaurant attached to the most visible portion of the institution. But next to these seemingly unimportant comparisons, there were some very enlightening similarities. I found through this comparison that the history of our class transcends a day of admissions and how we all did Doris, but is about people and the type of person admitted to the Osteopathic profession.

In 1939 the Annual Announcement states that beside the usual minimal requirements of Chemistry, Physics, Biology and English, "a reading knowledge of a modern language is strongly urged. Basic courses in Latin are also desirable. These should include grammar and such knowledge of the language as may be acquired by reading four books of Ceasar or their equivalent." (Most of us were lucky to get through a couple credits of Spanish). "Prospective applicants continuing in college for three or four years are advised not to take excessive work in the chemical, physical and biological sciences . . . . courses in human anatomy, embryology, bio-chemistry, hygiene, bacteriology, histology. physiology and other subjects included in the professional curriculum are disadvised for undergraduate credit. The Pre-Osteopathic student is urged to take additional work in subjects of cultural rather than vocational emphasis such as literature, philosophy, history, fine arts, modern languages, political science, public speaking and so forth."

So you see, although our class is one of 208 with 32% woman and in 1939 a class less than 30 with very few woman, there were some very basic philosophical concerns. Osteopathic students should be those with a diverse background. One that calls for persons with a sense of humor and not all seriousness, impertinence and yet feeling in the same being. The philosophy of allowing very human, caring people who could withstand years of exhausting effort to know the structure and process of human life and still retain their humanity was in practice fifty years ago and still is present today.

Our professors were instrumental in the process. From day one V.T. Cipolla, D.O. tried to impart critical thinking and the ability to question and thus welcome new ideas on our then synical minds. In between artery's named Adamkiewitz, veins called babson and those unmatched joints of Lushka came utterances like "Fatigue produces cowardice" and "Challenge is the only constant thing". As soon as you were ready to open up your mind he would say something like "Be ingenious and do it the way I tell you". As incongruous of those ideas might have seemed, they gave us time to examine our feelings.

Others such as Dr. Fliegelman showed us how to possess skills but not be possessed by them. We were always encouraged to see the human side of our work and the examine the Doctor-patient relationship. In our clinical years these philosophies allowed us not to bury the part of ourselves that hurts and is afraid. The students of the class of 1939 had similar experiences as the same process was used in their recruitment.

They too had to harden themselves to death. In the process we all had to resist becoming our skills and set ourselves apart from them. Certainly our class had no trouble in that department. We had plenty of parties to prove it. From the G-spot to the Bala Inn after a 9 AM exam including fundraisers, sports and picknicks.

After all these comparisons, memories as well as forgottens, no matter what year one matriculated, values had to be ranked. Choices had to be made. Do you want to spend years working all night every third or fourth night? How much drama can you stomach? How much power do you want? "It can be a startling experience", said Alan Alda, "to rank your values.

Forty-first Annual Announcement

1939—1940

Just ask yourself what's the most important thing in the world to you. Your work? Your family? Your money? Your country? Getting to heaven? Sex? Dope? Alcohol? What?".

These are very difficult questions. The student of 1939 had to answer them, and so do we. We need to know what we care about most and what we care about least. Actually, after our selection, training and now graduation, the number one spot should be clear to all of us. PEOPLE. The most important thing is not how well you use your scalpel but the interaction of your self with other selves. Not just the players in the game, but what goes on between the players, like the fear and uncertainty in our patients faces. We were selected and then trained to be people doctors such that we will not be presented with bodies but persons!!

After you tear away the technology, not much has changed in fifty years. Yes, the buildings are different, but the philosophy the same. We are now ready to commence.

With so many thanks to those people who have made this possible-Mom and Dad, my sisters, Diane-I love all of you! Most of all I want to thank my Lord and Savior Jesus Christ for the grace He gives so freely and the life I have in Him.

For it is my deep desire, and my hope is eagerly
That I not be put away to shame at all.
But with perfect boldness, just as I've tried to do,

So His honor may be seen in my body,
So His honor may remain in my body,
So His honor may be seen if I live or if I die,
I may even have to die so His honor may be seen in me.

For to me to live is Jesus Christ
And to die would be so much better.

For the past four years, we've been learning how to preserve life. Now it's time for us to live!

The books taught me the principles of life, but you-Mom, Dad, Marylou, family, and friends,— taught me the principles of living. You taught me how to love, to dream, to set goals, to accomplish them, to laugh, to cry, to share, to care, and so much more.

If it wasn't for your undying love and support, I never could have achieved this dream. Thank you so much, and may God bless you and grant you many years!

I love you,
Bob

After 21 years of education, I can now call myself "doctor". My dream since age five has been to be a physician . . . and now my wish has come true! All my life I worked and persevered in the hope that I would attain my goal. Now, I am to be rewarded with a life of satisfaction and challenge - to be shared with my wonderful wife and family.

To my wife, Sonya . . . with love forever. I don't think I could have survived medical school without your support and care.

Thank you, Mom and Dad, for all you have done and still do to nurture and sustain me through hard times and good. All my love.

To Grandpop and Grandmom - Although I will forever miss you, I still remember you and dedicate this page for your teachings and inspiration which encouraged me to follow my dreams. Thanks.

It's been a long road, with many peaks and valleys yet to be conquered. I've learned so much, yet with much to learn. Days I wondered if I'd ever make it. Days, I prayed that I would. With this in mind, I'd like to thank those who guided me through.

AL: You molded me, and gave me the initial inspiration to make this come true- Thank You

MOM & DAD: I'm not sure where to start. Somehow you're always there, with whatever it takes to get me through. I'm very thankful that you are my parents- Thank You

JOANN: Your never ending love and understanding, has helped and inspired me in ways that my words cannot express- Thank You Sweetheart

TO OUR LORD AND SAVIOR JESUS CHRIST: Without whom, none of this would have been possible. I give thanks and pray that somehow you may find me worthy of Your guidance, through every moment of my life as a physician.

THANK YOU ALL,

. . . Your daily life is your temple and your religion. Whenever you enter into it take with you your all. Take the plough and the forge and the mallet and the lute, the things you have fashioned in necessity or for delight. For in revery you cannot rise above your achievements nor fall lower than your failures. And take with you all men: for in adoration you cannot fly higher than their hopes nor humble yourself lower than their despair. And if you would know God, be not therefore a solver of riddles. Rather look about you and you shall see Him playing with your children. And look into space; you shall see Him walking in the cloud, outstretching His arms in the lightning and descending in the rain. You shall see Him smiling in flowers and waving His hands in trees.

This note is just to Thank You
For your patience and advice,
For your thoughtful understanding,
All your help and sacrifice—
It's filled with happy memories,
Too special to forget,
Of all the love you've given,
The example you have set—
And, Mother, it brings lasting love and gratitude to you now and forever.

HE WASN'T a GREAT MAN -HE WAS THE GREATEST
(by Jeff Conlon in memory of our father)
The morning sun is smiling casting shadows on the ground.
Dance in silent whispers as the leaves fall all around.
The power of the eternal sky gives my spirit quite a thrill.
As does the frosting on the glass in the mid-November chill.

When I close my eyes I see him standing there
Dancing through the living room or smiling from his chair.
But now the chair is empty and the smile is in my mind.
And in my heart is the love I learned from a man who was more than kind.

Now I look at momma-she's stronger than a stone
And even though Daddy's gone she'll never be alone.
And when I look into her eyes I'll see my father there
And realize you don't need words to show how much you care.

My sisters and brothers we feel an aching strain
But the love we share reminds us that it's just a selfish pain.
As evidence of my parent's love well I can give you five.
In each one of us differently our Daddy remains alive.

I can remember one time when my father said to me,
"It's my job as your father to set your spirit free.
To put you in the hands of God and hope that you will stay
And follow the ways of Jesus Christ each and every day."

Our Father in heaven hallowed be thy name.
I know my father resides with you inside your great domain.
I know he lives in all of us in Patrick and Caitlin-Marie.
Dad you did a hell of a job-you're the best husband, Doctor, Friend- And the best Father there could ever be.

Who has filled his niche

Who leaves the world better

Dad, I know you are with me here on the most important day of my life. You're probably watching the ceremony sitting in a golf cart up there (definitely more comfortable than everyone down here). There is no greater driving force in my life than the inspiration you have given me! For many years I dreamed about telling you this, face to face, at my graduation day. Now that you are gone . . . your memory is my only comfort in this regard. When I look up, I will see your smile always.

Mom—Thanks for letting me be your "Baby" all these years. You've been so much more than a provider . . . you are my friend and I will always be there for you!

To my brothers and sisters, thanks for the support you've shown me throughout the years . . . . but forget it, I don't treat family members!

Finally to all my friends, from high school to Med school . . . . "What a long strange trip it's been." All of you have been my inner strength, when I needed you most, you were all there. When my father passed on, you became my ears and thus my refuge. You will always be my "Dudes and Dudettes."

In searching for the way to go
I followed all the rules
The way they say to choose between
The wise man and the fools
I listen to the words they say
I read what I should read
I do what ever's right to do
Try to be what I should be Someone let me in I think the sky is falling
Seems I've gotten' lost on my way
All I want to do is try and find myself

ALL I REALLY NEED TO KNOW I LEARNED IN KINDERGARTEN

Most of what I really need to know about how to live and what to do and how to be I learned in kindergarten. Wisdom was not at the top of the graduate school mountain, but there in the sandpile at Sunday school. These are the things I learned:

Share everything.
Play fair.
Don't hit people.
Put things back where you found them.
Clean up your own mess.
Don't take things that aren't yours.
Say you're sorry when you hurt somebody.
Wash you hands before you eat.
Flush.
Warm cookies and cold milk are good for you.
Live a balanced life - learn some and think some and draw and paint and sing and dance and play and work every day some.
Take a nap every afternoon.
When you go out into the world, watch out for traffic, hold hands and stick together.
Be aware of wonder.

I asked God for strength, that I might achieve
I was made weak, that I might learn humbly to obey.
I asked for health, that I might do great things
I was given infirmity, that I might do better things.
I asked for riches, that I might be happy
I was given poverty, that I might be wise.
I asked for power, that I might have the praise of man
I was given weakness, that I might feel the need of God.
I asked for all things, that I might enjoy life
I was given life, that I might enjoy all things
I got nothing that I asked for—but everything I had hoped for.
Almost despite myself, my unspoken prayers were answered
I am among all men, most richly blessed.

This page is in loving memory of all those family members who have passed away; my father, Russell Jasper; grandfathers, Raymond Jasper and John Griffith; and my uncle, James Griffith. May God's grace always be with you.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank those who have helped me throughout my educational endeavors. To Paul and Kay, thank you for your time and talents in helping me achieve my goals in life. A special thank you is extended to my parents for their support and encouragement as I challenged life's upheavals and for instilling in me a set of values which guides me throughout life. To my Grandmother Griffith, a heartwarming thank you for being there whenever I needed anything and for your words of wisdom throughout my educational years. But most of all I would like to extend my deepest appreciation to my "friend", my fiance, Paula. Thank you for all your patience, encouragement and unselfishness throughout the past eight years. Without you this day would not be possible. Thank you for your love when the hardships where infinite and the miles between us were great.

To Mom, whose encouragement and guidance helped me realize the rewards I could gain from hard work and dedication, my love and thanks.
To Mother, whom I see every time I look into an older person's eyes or think of when an older person speaks to me her concerns, God bless you!
To Jayve, Richard, and Rebecca, who always made me laugh when I needed it the most, thanks guys.
To Paul, my Chicago pal, Gratias.
To Diane, whom I took into my heart and whose love and care brought me through my hardest days, all my love, always,
And to Dad, my inspiration and my mentor, who is still the Finest Physician I have ever known, Fraternally Yours,

Dan.

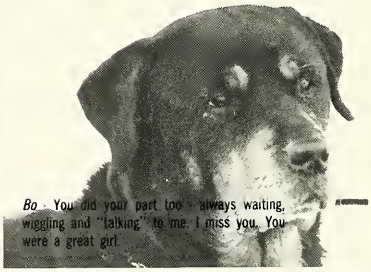
Barbara - I got lucky over twenty years ago and married the most beautiful girl I've ever seen. You saved me, you have loved me, you have held us all together with your tenacity, your courage and your heart. Your faith in me made this possible. I love you forever. "I'll find you in the morning sun and when the night is new, I'll be looking at the moon but I'll be seeing you."
Christopher - I have watched you grow from a beautiful boy into a great young man of courage and I know I have been blessed. My pride is exceeded only by my love for you.
Marla - My bunny, my "belle joiele" - you have given me unparalleled joy for fifteen years and I know that will never end. I love you always - je t'aime.
Big Grandpa - Your love and care for Mom has been matched only by your love and care for us. No father has ever given more of himself to his family than you. We couldn't have made it without your help. We all love you.
Mom and Dad Agnello - My thanks and love to two very special people who helped to make this dream come true. You gave me my greatest gift - your most beautiful daughter to be my wife and mother of my children. Barbara is a reflection of both of you for which I am grateful.
Mom - All of our lives you cared about one thing only - your family and especially your boys. You would have been so proud to see both of them become doctors. I miss you, Mom, but I'll be seeing you too.



Bo - You did your part too - always waiting, wiggling and "talking" to me. I miss you. You were a great girl.

So why do we do it?
What good is it?
Does it teach you anything
Like determination, invention, improvisation
Foresight, hindsight, Love?
Strength, or patience or accuracy or quietness or tolerance or
Which wood burns and how long is a day
And how delicious is water and smoky green pea soup?
And how to rely on your Self.

The Man in the Glass

When you get what you want in your struggle for gain, And the world makes you King for a day, Just go to the mirror and look at yourself
And see what that man has to say.
It isn't your father or mother of wife Whose judgement upon you must pass, The one whose verdict counts most in your life Is the one staring back in the glass.
He's the one you must satisfy beyond all the rest, For he's with you right up to the end;
And you have passed your most difficult test If the man in the glass is your friend!
You may be one who got a good break— Then think you're a wonderful guy;
But the man in the glass says you're only a fake If you can't look him straight in the eye.
You may fool the whole world down your pathway of years, And get pats on the back as you pass; But your final reward will be heartaches and tears
If you've cheated the Man in the Glass!

"Life is a mission. Every other definition of life is false, and leads all who accept it astray. Religion, science, philosophy, though still at variance upon many points, all agree in this, that every existence is an aim."

Giuseppe Mazzini

"A man who has nothing for which he is willing to fight; nothing he cares about more than his own personal safety; is a miserable creature who has no chance of being free, unless made and kept so by the exertions of better men than himself."

Thanks to:
-My family, for their support and encouragement
-And especially to my mother for her courage, endurance, and shining example
-my special uncle, my buddy, my pal, for being there for me; you'll never know how much I love and need you
- Dad and Dolores, for those sunny California days
-Michele, for never (almost never) getting tired of hearing "I'm too busy studying"
A special note to Nana, who would be proud- I miss you

To complete medical school is not truly an individual effort, but is actually the combined effort of those who have influenced my life. To these people I give thanks:

Mom and Dad, who gave me the incentive and opportunity.

Jack and Don, who gave the friendly competition and encouragement.

Relatives, who were always supportive and helpful.

And Most of all;

Tamara, who has made this possible, made it worthwhile, and who deserves the credit.

Thank you . . .

My husband Dave . . . No words can fully express the thanks I have for your love and support these last four years. I love you.

My parents and family . . . for my life, your constant love and encouragement and your faith in me. I know you had to sacrifice a lot for me to get where I am today, and I only hope you know how much I appreciate it.

God . . . for helping me to survive the bad times and to cherish the good.

Sometimes, not often enough, we reflect upon the good things. And those thoughts always center around those we love. And I think about those people who mean so very much to me. And for so many years have made me so very happy. And I count the times I have forgotten to say - Thank you. And just how much I love them.

Dear Family and Friends,

From The Shaggy Dog to Harrison's Principles of Internal Medicine your support and encouragement have been unwavering. Throughout my life you have taught me that a positive outlook often brings success, that honesty is important and that hard work brings personal satisfaction. Thank you!

Your laughter and companionship during my medical school endeavor are appreciated. May your paths of life be adorned with roses.

With gratitude I dedicate this page

To the memory of my mother. Her determination and commitment to life was my biggest inspiration. Her strength and courage gave me my motivation. She dedicated her life to those she loved. I hope I can be like her. I miss you Mom.

To my family and friends; that includes you Daddy. You've stood behind me every step of the way with encouragement and pride. You gave me the confidence that I needed to make it through. I love you all.

And most of all to my husband, Chris. You've always been there for me with understanding, love and support. You've made so many sacrifices for me over these last four years. What would I have ever done without you? I'll love you forever. You're the greatest.

I asked for strength that I might achieve;
He made me weak that I might obey.
I asked for health that I might do greater things;
I was given grace that I might do better things.
I asked for riches that I might be happy;
I was given poverty that I might be wise.
I asked for power that I might have the praise of men;
I was given weakness that I might feel the need of God.
I asked for all things that I might enjoy life;
I was given life that I might enjoy all things.
I received nothing that I asked for but all that I hoped for.
My prayer was answered.

To my family and friends who have helped me to realize my potential, my sincere thanks. With God's strength and your support I was able to achieve my goal of becoming a physician.

DAD: Thanks for helping to teach me both the art of medicine and the art of being a compassionate human being. Thank you also for believing in me and for all the "long distance hugs" when I didn't believe in myself.

MOM: Thank you for all of the love and encouragement through the years. Your spirit and drive as a mother, scholar and social worker continues to inspire me. Most of all, thank you for your sensitivity and unique understanding of me both when I was a child and now that I am a woman.

DOUG, SCOTT, GRAMPA, AND GANNY: Through the examples set by your lives I have learned to persevere even against great odds. I have in me a small piece of each of you. Thank you for your undying love.

TO ALL OF MY FRIENDS, ESPECIALLY THE SEVEN FRIENDS, AND TO MY BEST FRIEND, ROB: Thank you for keeping me sane through these four difficult years. You were always there for me, whether I needed someone to share my laughter or my tears. With your help I was able to keep it all in perspective. Thank you all.

Believe in yourself and in your dreams though impossible things may seem someday, somehow, you'll get through to the goal you have in view.

Mountains fall and seas divide before the one who in his stride takes a hard road day by day
Sweeping the obstacles away.

Believe in yourself and in your plan
Say not — I cannot — but, I can
The prizes of Life we fail to win because we doubt the power within.

Over the last several years I have encountered many personal challenges. Reaching this milestone in my life would not have been possible without the support and encouragement received from both family and friends. Therefore, I would like to especially acknowledge my parents for their interest and participation throughout my education. Hard work and determination are the essence of success, however, without the supportive foundation supplied by family and many special friends, this goal is not easily obtained.

At long last a young girl's dream becomes a reality . . . to this end I would like to thank:

My Parents - for imbuing in me the fortitude to overcome obstacles and an inner strength to reach for the stars.

My Brother - for his friendship, confidence in me and encouragement to pursue a dream.

My Son - for his understanding and assistance as a surrogate OMT patient, for my practical exams, while striving for his own goals in life.

My Daughter - for her unconditioned support and faith in "her best friend", while becoming a mature independent professional herself.

My Friends and other Family Members - for adjustments to my demanding schedule.

But most of all a Special Thank You to My Husband - for his encouragement, emotional support and his unremitting love, which keeps my life in Harmony . . . .

Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine

Dear Friends of PCOM,

Greetings from the Class of 1989! Members of the class have begun in earnest the production of Synapsis 89. This is the title of the annual PCOM yearbook produced exclusively by each year's graduating class. The work is done by volunteers who despite busy fourth year schedules, sacrifice their time and energies to produce a catalogue of our four years of medical school and pay tribute to our institution and graduating class. Synapsis 89 is a non-profit endeavor which is only partially funded by the student body through tuition yearbook fees- the remaining deficit is entirely funded by donations from parents, faculty, alumni, and friends of PCOM. The current yearbook staff must raise $15,000.00 to meet its projected production costs.

On behalf of the Class of '89 and especially the yearbook staff, I would like to take this opportunity to ask for your help. If you would like to take part in Synapsis 89 and help us to produce a memorable yearbook, please fill out the form below. Your name, congratulatory message, business logo, or advertisements are welcome. Please enclose your printed or typed message, logo, photographs, artwork, or advertisements as you would like them to appear with the following form and return to : Synapsis 89
c/o Office of College Admissions- Student Affairs
Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine
4150 City Avenue
Philadelphia, PA 19131-1696

Please make your checks payable to Synapsis 89 and add a separate sheet for any additional patrons that you may wish to purchase. The deadline for submission is May 1, 1989.

Any contributions that you can make will surely be appreciated. On behalf of the staff of Synapsis 89, thank you! With your help, we will make this a yearbook to remember.

Sincerely,
Bruce Carnivale

30 Externships
26 Internships
58 Residencies

If you are good, but want to be better, we invite you to apply now for an externship, internship or residency position at Grandview Hospital and Medical Center.

One of the nation's leading Osteopathic institutions, Grandview is an A.O.A. approved full-service hospital with 396 beds and 35 bassinettes. It features a new six-story addition. It is equipped with the latest advances in medical technology. And in addition to a full complement of medical departments, it includes an oncology unit and pulmonary, urodynamics, vascular and sleep disorders laboratories.

Grandview also operates suburban Southview Hospital and Family Health Center, an ultra-modern 56 bed facility offering inpatient and intensive care along with comprehensive outpatient services.

Located in Dayton, Ohio, an area rich in educational, cultural and recreational opportunities, Grandview accepts students from all osteopathic medical schools. It is also a primary teaching hospital for the Ohio University College of Osteopathic Medicine. And a library of 4,386 texts, 4,153 volumes and 354 periodicals enhance a full schedule of lectures, clinical conferences and grand rounds.

Thirty externships are available in cardiology, dermatology, emergency medicine, family practice, gastroenterology, general medicine, general surgery, nephrology, neurology, neurosurgery, nuclear medicine, obstetrics and gynecology, oncology, orthopedics, otorhinolaryngology, pathology, psychiatric, pulmonary medicine, proctology, radiology, thoracic surgery, and urologic surgery.

Twenty-six internships offer a comfortable stipend and benefits that include a monthly housing allowance, Blue Cross/Blue Shield, meals, uniforms and uniform laundry.

Fifty-eight residencies can put you into the specialty areas of anesthesiology, otorhinolaryngology and oro-facial plastic surgery, emergency medicine, family practice, general surgery, internal medicine, neurosurgery, obstetrics/gynecology surgery, ophthalmology, orthopedic surgery, pathology, pediatrics, pulmonary medicine, or radiology.

Be the best you can be with complete, well-rounded training. For further details and an application form, write or call:

Quality Care Close To Home

When you think of a community hospital, you think of a place where you get quality medical attention from competent, caring people. Riverside Hospital has approached healthcare this way for over 33 years.

Riverside Hospital offers the community of northern New Castle County many things, but the care you receive from the people at Riverside makes you feel better. And isn't that what a hospital is supposed to do?
